

JOHN OBERACKER IN LONG BEACH, CA Eden For Your World Now Part of Exclusive Luxury Travel Network

Long Beach, California, June 15th 2009 – Eden For Your World in Long Beach has recently affiliated itself with Montecito Village Travel, a member of the by-invitation-only Virtuoso luxury travel network, comprised of top leisure travel agencies in North and South America, the Caribbean and Australia. According to John Oberacker of Eden For Your World, the agency's membership in Virtuoso will bring a host of rare travel opportunities and exclusive values to the agency's clients.

“Less than one percent of travel agencies in America are admitted for membership in Virtuoso,” said Oberacker. “This renowned network of luxury travel specialists leverages its combined annual sales of more than $3 billion to negotiated special upgrades, amenities, values and truly rare travel experiences exclusively for the clients of its member agencies. For the clients of Eden For Your World, this translates to complimentary room upgrades, airport transfers, special dining experiences, exclusive shore excursions and custom itineraries, offered by the world's best providers of upscale travel. We are very proud to be affiliated with this Virtuoso agency and now to be able to offer these additional perks to our clients.”

Beyond the monetary values, Eden For Your World's affiliation with this Virtuoso agency gives them reinforced direct relationships with the finest hotels, resorts, spas, cruise lines and tour operators in the world, as well as an expanded resource of insider destination knowledge. Virtuoso also provides the services of Virtuoso On-Site ground operators in more than 60 countries, all dedicated to ensuring the happiness and comfort of Virtuoso agencies' clients. Based at the top luxury travel destinations, these Virtuoso On-Sites take care of every detail, from English-speaking guides, drivers or translators, to private access, prestigious introductions and tickets to top events.

John Oberacker says he is particularly excited about the new exclusive travel offers he will now present to his clients via new publications and special invitations. “Many of these rare trips, by their nature, can only be offered to a small number of discerning travelers, and we're confident that our clients will be intrigued by many of these unusual opportunities.”

Eden For Your World is in good company within the Virtuoso network. Virtuoso's travel specialists dominate the annual top-agent lists in Travel+Leisure, Conde Nast Traveler, and National Geographic Traveler. In addition, Virtuoso works in tandem with Neiman Marcus and Bergdorf Goodman to orchestrate the travel rewards for the retailers' top clients. And, for Town & Country magazine, Virtuoso operates the Town & Country Travel Club by Virtuoso, an annual-membership travel club offering rare travel experiences similar to those profiled in the magazine.

Along with his own extensive travel history and his exceptional travel planning skills, John Oberacker is ready to provide you with one of a kind, unparalleled travel experiences. For more information about Eden For Your World and its new Virtuoso travel offerings, call 562-856-8603, Send E-mail inquiries to John@Edenforyourworld.com, or visit our website at www.edenforyourworld.com.